GOVERNMENT MAY TAKE OVER RAILS

HARDING STANDS FIRMLY AGAINST ANY DISRUPTION

Cabinet Members Believe Rail Executives Ought To Restore Trains.

NO DRASTIC ACTIONS

President Not Disposed To Take Control But Will If Forced.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 25.—A growing impression that the administration was rapidly approaching a point in its attitude toward the rail strike where a decisive move might be looked for raised some expectation of important developments at today's cabinet meeting. President Harding, declared by cabinet members to be in personal charge of the question, is understood to have received the opinion from some of his advisers that the government can permit the disruption of transportation to go further. No indication was given of the manner in which the crisis might be laid before the cabinet.

With reports indicating the repressive effect of the strike on the national business revival, some administration advisers are known to hold the view that the railroad executives should be called on to make every effort to restore interstate commerce. They believe the roads must abandon, if necessary, their stand against restoration of seniority rights.

He Has the Power.

Should the railroad executives refuse, there was said to be no doubt of the president's authority to take over the operation of the roads, either under the Esch-Cummins bill, specifically, or the general powers conferred in the constitution. There is little disposition in government circles to consider meeting the situation by such drastic measures, and further, the broad powers of the transportation control vested under the transportation act in the interstate commerce commission were cited as making such a step unnecessary.

NO SEPARATE AGREEMENT
WITH B. & O. IS POSSIBLE

(By the Associated Press)

ALTIMORE, July 25.—The conference here today between the manager of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad system and representatives of the striking shopmen, while permitted by the national organization involved, will not result in any separate agreement or separate settlement of the strike on the B. & O. according to J. N. Davis, the national union officer who is directing the shop strikers in the Baltimore district.

"A separate agreement with the Baltimore and Ohio road would be an admission of weakness of the position taken by the shopmen in this strike, which is out of the question, and not to be thought of," Mr. Davis said.

Emergency Declared

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The interstate commerce commission today declared that an emergency existed in transportation in territory east of the Mississippi river which requires it to direct routing of shipments of all essential commodities and fixing preferences and prices for moving food, perishable products and other fuels and livestock.

Conference Is Opened.

BALTIMORE, July 25.—The conference designed to terminate the railroad shopcraft strike on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad system began at the company's general offices here this afternoon between representatives of the strikers and officers of the company. The men are represented by the system's general committee, made up of the general chairmen of the crafts on strike.

PEACE EFFORTS STRIKE
SERIOUS SNAG TUESDAY

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 25.—Efforts toward ending the rail strike through separate agreements between striking shopmen and the roads struck a snag today when strike leaders here informed union leaders at Baltimore that no action had been authorized toward ending the strike on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. The message of the strike leaders was their counter-offensive to the first open attempt at a separate settlement.

Chief Figures in Pending Strike

Timothy Healy.

E. F. Grable.

E. F. Grable, head of the maintenance of way employees of the nation's railroads, and Timothy Healy, former New York coroner and now international president of the railway stationary firemen and others, are now viewed as mammoth figures in the threatened general strike of railway workmen. So far, both have been instrumental in preventing the walkout of their unions.

OPERATORS TAKE HARDING'S PLAN

Robertson Notified That Southwestern Body Has Named Commission.

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 25.—Gov. J. B. A. Robertson of Oklahoma today was notified by telegraph that the southwestern interstate coal operators association at a meeting yesterday in Kansas City had adopted a resolution endorsing President Harding's plan for operating the coal mines and had appointed a committee of five which will confer with the governor at an early date.

The committee, the message said, is composed of the following: J. G. Putterbaugh, McAlester, chairman; A. M. Jones, Hartshorne; D. C. McAlpine, Hallettsville; James McGinnis, Henryetta; and K. C. Reid, McAlester.

The telegram, which was signed by H. M. Taylor, president of the association, said that further details concerning the proposals of the southwestern operators toward reopening the mines were being forwarded by mail.

Governor Robertson would make no comment except to say that he would receive the committee.

LABOR BOARD IS ONLY AGENT NOW

Government To Continue
Dealings With Strike
By This Medium.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The railroad labor board remains the only organization through which the government can and will deal with the railroad strike situation, though President Harding is continuing to hold himself in contact with all actions which the board might take in the matter, it was said today at the White House.

The administration, in the railroad strike as in the coal controversy, it is asserted, intends proceeding in fairness to the interests involved and is determined to maintain the dignity and majesty of the United States government. In accordance with this proposition, it is believed that all labor controversies will be placed before the railroad labor board, the sole authority under act of congress.

COLLEGE DRAWS CURTAINS UPON GREATEST TERM

Closing Events of Summer
Session To Be Staged
In Rapid Order.

THURSDAY IS ENDING

President Sees Big Year
Ahead Despite View
That Best Is Here.

Closing events this week of East Central's best summer session probably will come rapidly enough to keep both students and faculty members on the jump, Dr. A. L. Linseheid, president, declared Tuesday.

The last week began with baccalaureate exercises Sunday in the college auditorium.

Last Assembly Today
Tuesday morning the last regular assembly of the summer session was held. The purpose of this assembly was to explain functions of the extension department and the manner in which it could most effectively assist teachers in pursuing their college work while engaged in teaching throughout the 48 counties represented here.

Principal E. L. Stewart of Okmulgee explained plans of the East Central College association. It is the purpose of this organization, among other things, to publish a paper known as "The Journal of the East Central College Association" which will carry news items from the college, from the office of every county superintendent in the district, and from the various schools represented in the district. The principal purpose of the paper will be to promote the cordial good feeling which exists between teachers employed in the public schools and the college.

300 Seek Certificates
Between 300 and 400 students are preparing to take county examination Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week. Many of these students have some credits which may be applied on county certificates.

The registrar's office, assisted by Mr. Newcomb, has been busy checking up these credits.

Commencement exercises will be held in the college auditorium Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The program follows:

Processional—College orchestra. Invocation—Rev. E. O. Whitwell, D. D. Song—"Bells of Seville", Nevins. Male quartet.

Announcements.—President A. Linseheid. Overture, "Der Freischütz", Von Weber.—College Orchestra.

Address: "Our Responsibilities in Young Manhood and Womanhood."—Dr. J. G. Crabbe, president Colorado Teachers College, Greeley, Colo. Presentation of diplomas.

A Brilliant Speaker.
In a statement attending the commencement announcement, Pres. A. Linseheid said: "The citizenship of Ada is unusually large growth of teachers colleges this year, it might be said that there will be little or no growth next year, since the experience of schools and colleges shows that a period of abnormally rapid growth is followed by one of comparatively no growth. Whatever the conditions may be in other state institutions, it is all the more apparent that East Central will have a larger attendance during the regular year next year than last. Letters for information are coming, and it is already being seen that the degree will be larger next year than ever before. In other words, the institution is growing especially in its collegiate department. The number of those who wish to complete their work leading to degrees in this institution is growing beyond the fondest expectations of those in charge. Unless some unforeseen calamity should overtake this section of the state, making economic conditions abnormally bad, East Central will have an attendance during its regular year that will tax the resources of the institution."

Woman, Hurt in Wreck, Aids Sufferers

Mrs. Nellie Pointer, Visiting Here, Tells of Fatal Crash Saturday at Logan, Missouri, in Which Many Lost Their Lives

Mrs. Nellie V. Pointer, of Pittsburg, Penn., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Roland of this city, is at her parent's home recovering from injuries received in the railroad wreck at Logan, Mo., Saturday morning. Mrs. Pointer was coming to visit her parents as a surprise, but was forced to notify them after the wreck.

Mrs. Pointer received injuries about the head and spine at the back of her neck. In the wreck seven were killed outright and 94 injured. Of these several died later.

According to Mrs. Pointer's story, she had consulted her watch when the train was at Springfield and found the time to be 3:30 a. m. She then attempted to sleep but had not succeeded in doing so when the crash came at 3:42. Her seat telescoped, striking her on the head and knocking her unconscious.

Unconscious Two Hours

She remained unconscious nearly two hours but upon her recovery began helping others who were worse injured. She started that as those on the trains recovered they immediately began working trying to save others. Doctors and nurses did not arrive until 9:30, and it was not until 1:30 that they reached a place where they could send messages to relatives telling of the disaster.

Mrs. Pointer stated that she helped clean up the baby whose rescue required four hours. The baby's mother was killed and the baby remained five hours in its mother's arms before it could be reached. She stated that at the inquest two tower operators claimed that they both got through signals for the two passengers. She also stated that when they reached Monett the statements of the injured were taken and damage adjustments made. Only ten refused to compromise with the railroad.

Rescue of the baby was a feature of the wreck story in the Daily Oklahoman Monday. According to that story four men worked several hours trying to reach the child but were unable to do so because the combination car was reared atop the chair car. However, when the wrecker arrived, it soon lifted the top car off and the baby was removed. The mother had thrown herself into such a position that, although she was crushed to death, the baby was uninjured.

SECRECY VEILS IRWIN'S TRIAL BY PRESBYTERY

Accused Minister Facing
Examiners After Being Denied Counsel.

2 ARE PROSECUTING

Unjust Disciplining of His Members Is Ground For Hearing Today.

(By the Associated Press)

LAWTON, July 25.—Secret trial of Rev. Thomas J. Irwin, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Lawton, on ecclesiastical charges, continued here today before the judiciary commission of the governing El Reno presbytery.

Indications were that the whole day would be taken in examination of witnesses.

The accused minister faced the trial body alone, having been refused the right to be assisted by his attorney. Request for public trial and admission of newspaper representatives were denied by the commission.

Two attorneys, Ross Hume of Anadarko and A. H. Japp of Walters, are acting as prosecutors. Both are members of the commission.

Perjury Is Alleged
While the charges against Mr. Irwin have not been made public, it was understood that the principal accusations are that he disciplined members of his congregation without due process as provided by church regulations, and that he perjured himself in obtaining injunctions in district court some months ago restraining members of his church from interfering with his conduct of church affairs.

The hearing which began yesterday progressed slowly as Mr. Irwin insisted upon a careful record of proceedings. His counsel stated that this was for the purpose of predicated an appeal to the state synod and the general assembly of the denomination in the event the finding of the commission is an adverse one.

He Married Bathers.
Mr. Irwin, the victim of two alleged abductions which he charged to his bitter controversy with a section of his congregation, and subject of nationwide notoriety over bathing suit marriage ceremony will stand trial in district court next fall on a charge of arson in connection with an alleged incendiary fire at his church. He resigned the pastorate of this church several months ago.

Klan Foes Trailing In Defeat in Texas Primary Elections

(By the Associated Press)

DALLAS, July 25.—Leading Senator Charles A. Culberson by a probable majority of 16,000 votes, former governor J. E. Ferguson, on the face of late returns from Saturday's democratic primary seemed assured of taking part in the runoff August 26. Earl Mayfield, holds first place in the senatorial contest by a margin of nearly 26,000 votes. Mayfield who served as state railroad commissioner for a number of years, is generally regarded as having the support of the Ku Klux Klan, although he did not make the Klan an issue in the campaign. Ferguson and Culberson opposed the Klan.

MINING IN S. W. TO BE RESUMED

Committee To Begin Work at Early Date To Renew Fuel Digging.

(By the Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, July 25.—Immediate action toward resumption of coal mining in states comprising the southwestern interstate coal operators association will be taken, according to a statement to the association today by W. L. A. Johnson, through a general committee of the association. The committee, appointed at the conference of southwestern operators yesterday to confer and arrange with county and state authorities in the state of Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Arkansas, for "property and life protection" in the mining industry, will begin work at an early date.

To Form Commission.
WASHINGTON, July 25.—Creation of a federal coal commission of three members appointed by the president to investigate the coal industry and recommend legislation to congress is proposed in a resolution introduced today by Chairman Borah of the senate labor committee.

Recommendations would be requested from the committee "on the advisability or necessity of nationalizing the coal industry" and "the feasibility or necessity of government regulation and control of the coal industry."

U. S. to Protect Miners.
WASHINGTON, July 25.—The immediate policy of the government in the coal strike situation was declared at the white house today to be a continuation of its endeavors to furnish protection to men who are willing to work in the mines and put into motion the machinery decided upon for distribution of the dwindling coal supply.

The statement was made that should coal not be produced in appreciable quantities under the plan proposed and in accordance with President Harding's invitation to the operators to reopen their mines, some other steps might be taken, but that the president was unwilling to consider at this time what they might be.

DOUBLE STRIKE TO CLOSE MANY FACTORY DOORS

Unemployment and Hunger
May Stalk in Wake of Industrial Slump.

N. Y. PLANTS SILENT

Fuel and Food Supplies To Be Rationed Soon If No
Relief Appears.

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 25.—The railway strike, combined with the coal strike was being brought home to the public today through the announcement of leaders in several industries that unless speedy settlement is reached, closing of the plants with resulting unemployment, rationing of fuel and food supplies, and crippling of public utility service will result.

Steel plants, especially in the east, will be closed on a wholesale scale if present conditions continue until August, according to the head of the largest steel corporation. Industrial coal is said to be unobtainable in New York. In Chicago an increase from $5.25 to $15.25 a ton in the price was announced. A shortage of coal cars in the bituminous fields is causing an appreciable decline in production.

The close relationship which the strike bears to the railroads is seen in the statement of H. B. Trumbower of the Wisconsin railroad commission that if the coal strike lasts an additional two weeks, rail transportation in the state will be at a standstill.

Official Washington has maintained silence on the rail situation but it is confidently expected that President Harding would begin action to end the shopmen's strike during the week. In some quarters it is believed that the next move might come through the railroad labor board. It was pointed out that the board's power to grant full recognition to the shopmen's unions which 40 eastern railroads, under the leadership of L. F. Laree, eastern regional chairman of the association of railroad executives, is contemplating forming.

B. & O. Blazes Way.
Hope for immediate peace centers in the meeting of officials of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad with representatives of the strikers. Success in settling difficulties on that road would probably mean that other roads would adopt a similar course.

Further probability of walkout is considered unlikely since the announcement that the 10,000 members of the station agents union would remain at work, made by W. J. Noone, head of the union, after a conference with W. L. McMenimen, labor member of the rail board. Members of the local union of firemen at Evansville, Indiana, yesterday adopted a resolution recommending a strike unless armed guards are removed from the Louisville and Nashville system.

The existing embargoes on freight are causing a shortage of commodities in several cities and lack of transportation is reducing the supply on a few lines.

Badges, symbolical of the name, are being supplied to many ships in the British navy.

BIBLE THOUGHT OF TODAY

HOW TO GAIN ALL:—Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you.—Matt. 6:33.

CAPPER DEFENDS FORD'S OFFER

The Senators who recently turned down Hery Ford's Muscle Shoals proposition and then issued a long explanation in which Ford was held up as a sort of confidence man, have stirred up Senator Capper of Kansas to his highest fighting pitch. Capper takes no stock in their talk and still insists that Ford's offer is the best the government can possibly obtain. Hence Capper says the fight has only begun. Capper insists that Ford is the only man in the United States capable of making a go of the enterprise and that under his management millions of dollars now going to the fertilizer trust will be saved to the farmers of the United States who must buy fertilizer. As there can be no doubt about Capper having the interest of the farmers at heart and as he is on the ground and has gone over all propositions carefully, we are inclined to take his word for it as against the bunch who defeated the project.

One of the best things the citizens of Ada get out of the East Central Teachers College is the opportunity to meet the best school men of this part of the state and to listen to the greatest educators of the country. This means that we citizens get an insight into the educational life of today and understand more accurately just what is going on and the problems the school men meet. On the other hand, too, it affords the teachers of this section an opportunity to meet and talk with the business men of Ada and get first hand knowledge of the business world, making it possible for them to give better instruction and render a greater service.

The public schools of America are the greatest force known for teaching democracy and the brotherhood of man. As Professor Butcher of Pauls Valley pointed out last evening, the English schools are planned to keep the boys and girls in the same economic strata into which they are born. In America the boy who is born in a hovel on a dirty side street and the boy who is born in a million dollar palace on Fifth Avenue go to the same schools and seek the same information and have like ambitions, and these like ambitions may be gratified. The boy who is born in the log cabin in the wilderness gets much the same training that the boy born in a million dollar country home gets. Many have been the instances when these boys change places in the economic world, and the poor lad became the empolyer of the wealthy lad. There is no boundary line.

And this recalls the core of Judge McKeown's talk to the Lions and their guests last evening, the hypocrisy of any man who tries to array an imaginary class against another imaginary class. This country is overrun with agitators for revenue only who tell the man who works with his hands that he can never expect to improve his condition until the "system" is changed. They array employes against their employers, the city people against the farmers, the farmers against the city people, the small town citizens against the city citizens. The man who steals money or property from another is taking what can be replaced. But the man who puts hatred, prejudice and a sense of imaginary wrongs into the minds and hearts of people less informed than himself is stealing that which is more precious than money or property. The English language has a number of words to designate the ordinary thief, but it has never contained a word base enough to properly label one of these men who tries to stir up strife and array one body of people against another. If Dante were living, he would have to add another and lower region to his Inferno for such creatures.

We recall hearing some speaker make the assertion that when one body of Americans sit on one side of a table and another body of Americans sit on the other side, they will never have any difficulty about reaching a satisfactory agreement. It is only when one side is influenced by some radicals, foreigners in most cases, when trouble starts. Europeans come to America with the intention of fighting imaginary wrongs, and they fight them whether they exist or not. The doors of the United States ought to be closed to these and closed at once. If necessary to stop immigration in its entirety to stop the undesirables, then we should stop it.

Since the entire country will pay more for its woolen garments when the duty of 33 cents per pound on imported wool is placed on it in order that profits of sheep growers be kept up, why not go a step farther and pay the cotton farmers a bounty of 10 cents per pound on all they export? Turn about is fair play.

Some 2,000 years ago the daughter of Herodias demanded the head of John the Baptist, but according to the reports from Washington Congresswoman Alice Robertson, more humane, is only asking for the scalp of Victor Locke, head of Indian affairs in Oklahoma.

The Forum of the Press

"The Kept Press"

The newspapers of the nation, with a few marked exceptions, are antagonistic to the socialists and the radical disturber. It seems quite natural that they should be. They believe in America and American ideals, they admit our country's faults and strive to remedy them but they have no desire to make our nation over or to "reconstruct" it.

It is therefore also quite natural it seems, that the agitator, the red and the moderate bolshevik should malign the press and attempt to discredit it. Towards that end they have created an expression which in campaign times one hears upon the lips of every political hypocrite. Newspapers, generally, constitute the "kept press." At times when their opponents desire to put an added sting into their denunciation, they become the "Kept capitalistic press."

Capitalistic, perhaps, because it requires money and at least a modest amount of business acumen to issue a newspaper six or seven days a week. Newspapers, too, are usually identified with civic movements.

CHILDERS for State Auditor

EXTRACTS FROM OKLAHOMA STATESMAN, JUNE 1922

Signs of the times bespeak better things in governmental affairs when such men as C. C. Childers of Enid offer for public office. There is not to be found in all the confines of this commonwealth a higher type of the citizens than Childers. The Statesman has known Childers since he "lit" in Garfield county fresh from Arkansas and has watched his career and known intimately of his public and private life, and not a blot, blemish or mark of doubtful living or of public service can be charged against the man. The peer of any citizen, Childers goes about doing things worth while because he loves to be useful.

The candidacy of men of the C. C. Childers type is an omen of better things for the plain people. Those who know him best and have served with him in positions of public trust vouch for his unswerving honesty and devotion to the cause of good government and for the common fellow. Senator Luther Harrison is one man who knows Childers. He says: "Not all the candidates for office mulling about today in the Oklahoma arena are men of the Childers type—not by several diameters. Childers has had the experience and still has the brains and fidelity and moral courage to give the state several dollars in service for every dollar received in salary, and no one who knows him will doubt for a moment that the state would reap handsome dividends from a Childers investment. He has served two terms as sheriff, and two terms as circuit clerk of Lawrence County, Arkansas, and gave Garfield County four years of high class service as representative in the legislature."

This is a splendid testimonial, and it does not overreach. The Statesman knows the worth of the man, the real worth of the man to the commonwealth, and it is incalculable. The voters of the state do not honor such a man as Childers by electing him to office—they honor themselves. Childers is the kind of man who renders service without thinking of the salary attachment. Chances are when rendering service for the great public he wonders if he is doing enough. Certainly more service, for the dollar than the average public servant. In every place of public trust Childers has made good. Serving two terms in the legislature from a Republican district from Garfield County he was a distinctive credit to his constituents and accomplished things worth while for the entire state. Later as chief clerk of the House of Representatives, secretary of the senate and ex-officio secretary of the state election board besides serving in the legislature, he has become prominently known throughout the state. He is said to know more people and to call them by name than any man in the state.

Charley Childers' acquaintance-ship in Oklahoma gives him a powerful foundation on which to successfully conduct a campaign, and his familiarity with state government should make him appeal powerfully to the people all over the state. He is a farmer, owns a school quarter of land, and is familiar with the problems of the farmers of the state.

Without question the nomination of Childers for state auditor means added strength to the Democratic ticket. Clean-cut, affable, firm, looks you square in the eye, and in every essential that goes to make a real American-man. Childers stands out prominent in any and every crowd. (Political Advertising) most of them are members of the Chambers of Commerce, some of the editors even belong to civic clubs. They patronize the banks; they urge more industries, they plead for more capital for city enterprises and more industries with outside capital. Therefore, it would seem no more than fair for them to plead guilty to the charge of being "capitalistic."

But why "Kept"? It is an ugly word, it smacks of prostitution. And that, no doubt, is the meaning these socialists would convey. Newspapers live partly by the advertising that is published in their columns. It is the business man and the merchant who pays for the advertising. And business men and merchants are, to an extent, capitalists. The newspapers dare not offend them unless these capitalists withdraw their patronage and the newspapers fail. Therefore the press grovels at the feet of business, craving the crumbs from its table, humbly doing as it is bidden.

It is pretty reasoning, faulty, perhaps, in only one essential. Business buys advertising circulation, it pays, as strictly a business proposition, to place its message before the people. And no newspaper can gain the confidence and respect of the American people unless it be honest, no newspaper will long be welcome unless it please and entertain. The American people are not cheats, they are not crooks and deamogues and they will not associate with one. Nor will they read a newspaper of such character. And so newspapers, that would succeed could not be "kept" if they would.

There are few exceptions. Years ago in all America there were perhaps three newspapers owned and published by big business to further its own ends. They failed. People would not read them and for that reason advertisers would not patronize them. Big business soon realized the folly of expending money for propaganda that would not propagate.

Today the only "kept" press is the socialist publications. They exist, not to seave the public, but to spread their own insidious poison. And they are "kept" by socialist schemes, by assessing members of their organizations and from the purses of the Farmer-Labor league and the Nonpartisan alliances.

shake itself loose. The monarchs who sit on the throne of fashion in the French capitol continue to dictate to the United States, which has held itself aloof from European advice in anything but styles.

What Paris thinks as regards fashions is always of interest in this country. Paris decides that while the vogue for jade is somewhat diminished, jade is too beautiful to be discarded, so it is combined with primrose. There are handsome primrose gowns embroidered in wooden beads of jade color. It is reported, with apparent authenticity, that sometimes a primrose gown has panels of jade chiffon. From the same reliable source comes the statement that "primrose cloaks are glorified by bunches of jade fruit."

It is presumed, therefore, that the United States of America, which scorned the League of Nations, which has condemned the intriguing diplomacy of the Old World, and which has been stern in its attitude toward the payment of war debts, will become simply wild in its efforts to combine jade with primrose.

A statement by the French premier might be dismissed as tosh in this country, but the recital of the whims of Paris fashion makers is greeted with serious consideration. This is no reflection on America. The opinion of a French dress-maker is sometimes worth more than that of the premier. What French politician has ever presumed to elevate himself to the Elysian heights of jade and primrose?

There is a real entente cordiale between the United States and France. It is no fallable tie, such as those reached at conference tables and which are sometimes violated without even so much as a pricking of the conscience. It is an enduring alliance, cemented by a mutual affection for those delectable colors, jade and primrose.

Mr. Ames Turner Tells How Cuticura Healed Eczema

"Eczema broke out in little pimples on my arms and hands. It itched and burned very badly causing me to scratch and irritate the affected parts, and I lost my rest at night. My hands hurt when I put them in water, and when I got warm at my work my clothing aggravated the breaking out on my arms."

"The trouble lasted about two months. I used other remedies without success. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Ames P. Turner, Rt. 1, Evansville, Tenn.

FOR CORPORATION COMMISSIONER

Of 408 orders signed by Chairman Russell, 22 have been appealed to the State Supreme Court and 4 to the Federal Court—not one reversed. Is it any wonder that some companies would prefer to be regulated (?) either by those who like booze, or else by those who lack experience?

A few reasons why Russell should be re-elected:

- He never rode a band wagon;
- He never side stepped a steam roller
- He never turned the back of his hand to a friend;
- He never turned the bottom of his foot to a foe;
- He is honest, capable, industrious, and fights hard but fights fair.

Miss Shaw Entertains

Miss Lady Percy Shaw entertained with a swimming party and supper Saturday evening at Glenwood Park. Guests included Misses Ada Jeanette Dodds, Jessie Lee Woods, Verda Mount, Elizabeth Wimbish and Rubye McCollum, and Messrs. Trooper, Robert and Charles Shaw. Miss Vera Masters chaperoned the party.

Changing from the established custom of giving to the members of the College summer faculty an indoor banquet, the Lions Club last evening spread a sumptuous banquet under the trees in Glenwood Park. It was one of the most unique as well as one of the most enjoyable social events of the entire summer. Approximately 250 teachers, members of their families and Lions and their families were present.

The host and guests began arriving at 6:30. The two long tables were covered with fried chicken, barbecue, sandwiches of many kinds, cake and other tasteful articles to eat. For approximately an hour the joy makers sat at the banquet boards, music all the while being furnished by the High School band boys. Brick ice cream completed the repast, and cigars were passed to the men.

Immediately after the banquet Judge Robert Wimbish in his usual effective style welcomed the guests on behalf of the Lions Club, and told of the many advantages the citizens get from their association with the teachers. Informally the crowd called for talks from many others, including President A. Lin-scheid, B. C. Klepper of Shawnee,

Tom D. McKeown, Mrs. A. Lin-scheid, Mrs. C. C. Morris, Prof. F. L. Stewart of Okmulgee, Prof. H. P. Butcher of Allen, Prof. H. C. Butcher of Pauls Valley, L. A. Ellison and the president of the Lions Club, C. E. Cuning.

The invocation was delivered by Rev. C. C. Morris, and the benediction by Rev. J. H. Ball.

An elaborate camping outfit was shipped to Sulphur and the family is reported to be spending a pleasant week at the popular summer resort.

Two Diamond Rings Are Stolen Friday from Cullins Home

Two diamond rings, valued at $1500, were stolen from the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Cullins, 901 East Twelfth street, last Friday night while members of the family were with a swimming party at the city lake, it became known Tuesday.

Only someone familiar with where the rings were kept could have removed them without disturbing other contents of the room or taking other valuables scattered about, it was said. Several wrist watches and other pieces of jewelry were not molested. Both rings were in a velvet box and Mr. Cullins stated today he was confident an intruder watched Mrs. Cullins hide the diamonds before she went with the swimming party. She wore them at all other times, he said.

Officers were unable to get any clue to the theft.

WET OR DRY NOW CHIEF QUESTION

Many States Must Settle Liquor Issues Soon at Primaries.

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 25.—Well defined wet and dry issues have appeared in two middle western states in the campaign preceding the primaries, while Congressman Volstead has active opposition in Minnesota although the prohibition issue has not been raised there.

The prohibition and anti-prohibition forces are waging warm campaigns in both Ohio and Wisconsin, open claims being made by both sides that they will control the next congressional delegation from these two states. The situation in the three states follows:

OHIO TO DECIDE
COLUMBUS, Ohio.—Ohio voters will again face the wet and dry issue at the state-wide primaries on August 8, and the result are expected to be of national interest as Ohio is the home of the Anti-Saloon League and several national wet organizations.

Because of the effect of those opposed to prohibition to have Congress enact a law permitting the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer, chief interest will attach to the nomination of congressmen. Both the wets and drys are busy trying to obtain pledges from the candidates, who are more numerous than ever before in the history of the state. Congressmen are to be nominated in the twenty-two districts of the state, and in some districts there are more than a score of candidates.

Because of the dry's efforts to maintain strict law enforcement on the statute books, considerable attention also is being paid to prospective members of the legislature.

Although there will be no direct wet and dry referendum at the August primaries, the two of the candidates for the governorship nomination—both republicans—have announced platforms favoring light wines and beer. They are C. Homer Durand, Coshocton attorney formerly connected with the liberal forces in Ohio and J. W. Durnell of Columbus.

Both the wets and the drys already are claiming the next Ohio congressional delegation. Important in Wisconsin—Madison, Wis.—Wisconsin is swinging into a campaign for the general election primaries September 5 with prohibition enforcement an issue of importance stressed by candidates for all parties.

In the Republican field, both factions, one headed by United States Senator Robert M. LaFollette, and the other headed by Dr. W. A. Granfield, candidates for the United States Senate, have declared for law enforcement without specifically mentioning prohibition.

The candidates themselves, however, have taken direct issue on the question, since Attorney General William J. Morgan, candidate for governor in opposition to Gov. J. J. Blaine, who is seeking reelection, declared specifically his opposition to return of wine and beer.

beer, asserting that promises of modification of the Volstead act were "fraudulent attempts at vote-getting." This stand was officially endorsed by Dr. Granfield and other candidates on the ticket endorsed by the Citizens Republican state conference which met at Milwaukee June 1. This faction of the party is opposed to Senator LaFollette.

Governor Blaine has not yet answered his opponents on the wet and dry issue, nor have other members of the LaFollette faction. R. P. Hutton, superintendent of the Wisconsin anti-saloon league, has publicly attacked the governor as "wet" because of his veto of the league prohibition enforcement bill passed by the 1921 Wisconsin legislature.

At that time Governor Blaine expressed himself as believing that persons should be permitted to manufacture wines and beer in their homes for home consumption.

PUBLIC DEMANDS
BLACK MUSTACHE
UPON VILLAINS

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO.—Black mustaches may have disappeared from the face of America but the lay public today is as insistent as ever before that this fiction and movie villains wear them.

This and other popular conceptions of "bad men" were pointed out here today by Tom Peete Cross, professor of comparative literature at the University of Chicago, who was one of the judges in the selection of a $10,000 prize winning scenario from the 27,000 that were entered by amateurs in a picture-play contest recently conducted by the Chicago Daily News.

"Smooth-shaven faces have been the style ever since nineteenth-century writers were born," said Dr. Cross, "but the great majority of the contestants specified in their stories that their scoundrels should have bold black mustaches. The idea that dark hair across the upper lip denotes wickedness is an ancient one, handed down in folk stories from the Northern European peoples."

"Those blond races have implanted popular beliefs and ideas in the United States today, inheritance telling their superstitions to us over and over again. Their folk and fairy tales are ours. They were always at war with peoples of the southern European nations and grew to associate the black hair and mustaches of those enemies with general villainy and wickedness."

"They terrified their children with stories, myths and legends of black whiskered marauders and murderers. Sea raiders and buccaners of a later period cultivated the sweeping 'sable mustache as a symbol of ferocity and a means of spreading terror. So thoroughly was this superstition implanted in the popular mind that Americans of nearly all races today unconsciously adopt it."

Make every country school district a voting precinct where the residents of that school district can vote and register; make the country school boards the judges and clerks of election; make the clerks of the country school boards the registrars for that district; make the voting precincts in incorporated towns the same as the school precincts; making the principals of the ward schools the registrars for that ward; this will take the election officers and registrars out of factional politics and make voting more easy, especially for the women.

Another popular idea about villainous as shown by the 27,000 writers is that cigarettes today are tokens of weakness and untrustworthiness, that cigars are symbols of ruthlessness and hardness, but that pipes are indications of sweetness of character, tolerance, strength, manliness, gentleness of soul, simple honesty and general heroism.

"This may seem odd in a day when cigarette smoking is very general, but it is the survival of strong and violent opinions taken by the public fifty years ago and which lives on in the race's unconscious views and come to light in its writings."

JOE H. STRAIN
DEMOCRAT CANDIDATE FOR STATE TREASURER

Joe H. Strain, (called Joe by his friends) resides at Wann, Nowata County. He grew to manhood in Cass County, Missouri, but has resided in Oklahoma for over 20 years. He is a life long democrat; and was the state organizer for the democratic party in the national election in 1912 when the democratic majority was increased from 8,000 in 1908 to 34,000 in 1912.

He was a state senator in the Haskell regime from the 33rd senatorial district. He was a leader in keeping taxes down, and helped make famous the Haskell regime.

He was the Washington representative of the Indian office at Muskogee during the Wilson regime; handling from forty to fifty million dollars annually, loaning millions of dollars, and not a foreclosure or one dime lost during his term of over six years. So remarkable a record that many leading democrats demanded he come out for state treasurer, and handle the state funds.

When Joe announced he was approached and told not to spend any of his money but be "Underwritten", rent headquarters at Oklahoma City, hire a manager, get some stenographers, go out and make a few speeches, and if you lose you are not out anything. Joe asked why this would be done. Was told, if a bank in Oklahoma pays $25,000 to get a deposit of $150,000, what is it worth to get the friendship of the state treasurer with ten to fifteen million dollars annually. Joe was so old fashioned he turned down the offer, and is making his campaign upon his own money, and will be free to place the funds in all banks in the state fairly and impartially to help the farmers and business men in the smaller towns, rather than a few big banks in the large cities, as is now the custom.

The present custom of loaning the school funds to politicians in the towns to speculate in land; and the purchase of millions of bonds, funds intended by the constitution to be loaned to real farmers living upon their farms, and depriving many real farmers of getting loans, Joe will oppose, and insist the law be lived up to. If this law had not been violated the recent loss of $97,000 school funds invested in worthless bonds disclosed by the failure of the Wilkins-Hale bank in Oklahoma City and the Commercial bank of El Reno would not have occurred.

Joe is a Mason, a Woodman, and a member of the Farmers Union; he resides upon a little suburban farm at Wann, and is a retired farmer, but experienced in business also. His only ambition is to give the people of Oklahoma an administration of the treasurer's office that will be a credit to the democratic party, and himself. His past record demonstrates he will do it.

He has the endorsement of hundreds of the best democrats in the state and his own county is solidly behind him, as shown by the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, Honorable Joe H. Strain, of Wann, one of our fellow citizens of Nowata County, has consented to become a candidate for State Treasurer, on the Democratic ticket at the Primary election to be held on August 1, 1922, and,

WHEREAS, Mr. Strain is personally and well known, by us, to be a man of great business ability, thoroughly experienced in business affairs, fair, just and impartial in his dealings with men, courteous, kind and gentlemanly with all, though staunch, brave and fearless to stand for right and justice. His efficiency stands at 100 per cent.

THEREFORE, Be It Resolved, that the members of the Democratic Central Committee of Nowata County, and all other Democrats, assembled at this meeting, do hereby heartily endorse the candidacy of Honorable J. H. Strain, for State Treasurer and unreservedly commend him to the Democrats of Oklahoma, as an honest, competent, efficient and trustworthy man, for the office, and if nominated and elected, will never give the citizenship of Oklahoma any cause to regret the confidence they have bestowed in him.

Unanimously adopted this 9th day of February, A. D., 1922.

WIMBISH INQUIRES!

July 25, 1922
Ada, Okla.

Dear Sir: I have frequently asked myself the question if there was anything too sacred for you to bring into this campaign, and after reading the statement of Mr. John P. McKinley in the paper yesterday afternoon, I am satisfied as to the correct answer.

You sat within twenty feet of me during my entire speech Saturday and you well know that I said not one word that would in any way reflect on any member of your family other than yourself.

In answer to an argument that is made by your friends that you are a big hearted, liberal citizen, I made the statement that you had grown wealthy in this town, and that upon the information of Bailey Bobbitt, the acting secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, you have not contributed but $1.00 to that organization since O. N. Walker came here about five years ago. I further stated "that I had it on good authority that you are a member of the Methodist church, and that in 1918, you contributed $10.00 and you had contributed $10.00 this year." I further stated that I did not have the direct information as the books were not open to me, but from the best that I could learn you had contributed practically nothing to the Red Cross and the United Charities since the war. I now make the additional statement that in the splendid work of the citizens of this community for the up-building of the Boy Scouts movement the records show that you have not contributed one penny. If I am in error, please correct me, but please do not try to raise sympathy for yourself by bringing in people whose names I never called, and whom I did not have in mind when I made any of the statements.

Are you willing to say how much you have given to the Methodist Church in the last five years, outside of the amount contributed this year?

Are you willing to say I am wrong in any of the above statements, if so, in what respect?

Is it not a fact that you have not contributed one cent to the United Charities, and that you have not contributed one cent to the Boy Scout movement?

Yours, very truly,

BOOZE QUESTION IS CHIEF ISSUE

Hot Races Expected For Nominations in New Jersey Wednesday.

(By the Associated Press)

NEWARK, N. J., July 25.—A contest for the republican nomination for United States senator on the republican side and one for the gubernatorial nomination on the Democratic ticket will feature the statewide primaries to be held in New Jersey Sept. 26. Prohibition has been made one of the principal issues of the senatorial campaign, while the liquor question and public utilities have been injected into the race for the Democratic nomination for governor.

United States Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, seeking renomination as a Republican candidate, will be opposed by George L. Record of Jersey City, an attorney. He was defeated for the republican nomination in 1918 by United States Senator Water E. Edge and previously was defeated for the Republican nomination for Governor.

Senator Frelinghuysen in a recent address declared the people of the state have shown that they want prohibition and that there should be no change in the Volstead act on the ground that modification of the act would mean virtual nullification of the eighteenth amendment.

The senator also has declared for a protective tariff, but would take the whole matter out of politics by increasing the personnel of the Tariff Commission as provided for in a bill which he introduced in the senate. He has declared for continued aid for the farmers through the farm loan banks.

Would Curb Monopoly

Opposing Senator Frelinghuysen in quest of the nomination, Mr. Record declared in a speech that curbing monopolies is the paramount issue and one which should be pressed to a finish. He has refused to permit the liquor question to be made an issue, so far as he is concerned, and while refusing to discuss it in his speeches, has promised to issue a statement on the subject.

Governor Edward I. Edwards is regarded by the Democrats as entitled to the nomination for United States Senator on his record as chief executive of the state, and therefore, he will have no opposition. Governor Edwards' position is well known on the wet side of the prohibition question, the beer bill which he signed having been made one of the bases of a test in the federal courts of the eighteenth amendment.

The candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination are Judge

George S. Silzer of the Circuit court and William E. Tuttle, state banking and insurance commissioner.

Judge Silzer, who has the backing of the Democratic state organization, has as yet done no campaigning.

Commissioner Tuttle has come out for a modification of the Volstead act and has stated his opposition to appropriations for state prohibition enforcement. On this point he has taken a stand contrary to that of Senator Frelinghuysen, expressing the belief that the people have shown that they do not want prohibition and therefore should not be burdened with a tax for something they do not want. He also has declared in favor of the return of the five cent trolley fare.

Senator William N. Runyon, who will be unopposed for the Republican nomination for governor, announcing his stand on public utilities, declared for a law that would place the holding company under the same restrictions as its subsidiary or operating companies. The present state utilities law provides that the books of the holding company, which controls virtually all the street car lines of the state as well as the gas and electric light business, may not be seized in investigations, while those of the subsidiary or operating companies may be seized.

With the railroad walkout in connection with the coal strike casting a depressing shadow over business and industrial interests the situation depended on the cabinet meeting in Washington from which some decisive move is expected to arrest

Announcements of leaders in several industries indicated the effects of the strike, while the only optimistic report came from President Hale Holden of the Burlington road, who said that rail service was almost normal on his line. ## WHAT IS A PUBLIC UTILITY?

The word "utility" is defined as "quality of being useful." That is exactly what our business is, furnishing commodities that can be made use of, not occasionally, but every minute twenty four hours each day.

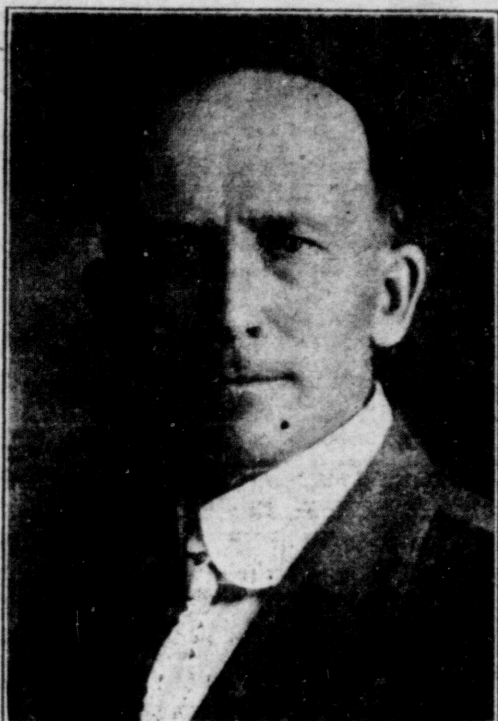

The Oklahoma Light and Power Company is fully aware of its obligation as to the kind of service it must give, of its duty as a public utility to lead the way in making Ada a better place to live in each year and by keeping the wheels of industry turning by being on the job twenty-four hours each day.

In order to fulfill our obligation as a public utility we must be backed up with many loyal, conscientious employees, whose duty it is to work often times many hours per day in the worst of storms and in many instances risking their lives that your industries may not be interrupted and that you may enjoy in your homes without interruption the pleasures and comforts which our commodities afford.

East Central Association to Boost Local College

Live Officers and Directors Will Assist in Stimulating Interest in School Over Present Phenomenal Point Until Enrollment Is One of Biggest in Entire Southwest.

Prof. A. B. Herring, Wynnewood

Prof. B. C. Klepper, Shawnee

Prof. F. L. Stewart, Okmulgee

Prof. W. C. Herring, Ravia

The East Central College Association is a going concern. Arrangements have been made to issue a publication once each month the object of which is to carry a message to all the school boys and girls of this entire district, as well as to the teachers, school board members and parents. It will aim to boost the attendance at the East Central State Teachers College.

The officers are F. L. Stewart, Okmulgee, president; B. C. Klepper, Shawnee, vice-president; W. C. Herring, Ravia, executive secretary; and H. P. Butcher, Allen, treasurer.

Directors by counties are W. A. Allen for Coal, A. B. Herring for Garvin, Doc Tolliver for Hughes, W. C. Herring for Johnston, N. C. Boen for Murray, K. W. Harris for McClain, F. L. Stewart for Okmulgee, J. O. Vernon for Okfuskee, B. C. Klepper for Pottawatomie, Oscar Parker for Pontotoc and L. V. Porterfield for Seminole.

All of these men are well known in educational circles and the mere fact that they are at the head of the organization means, others say, that it will function from the beginning. The publication will be issued from Ada and will be edited by W. C. Herring of Ravia, assisted by all the officers and others interested in the welfare of the school and education in general.

Those who keep in touch with the college, believe this organization will do more than almost anything else to increase the attendance. The students donated more than $1,500 to carry on the work. No pains will be spared to make known the good work which the faculty and President Linscheid are doing.

It is pointed out that this school has grown faster than any other educational institution in the West for the last year. Twice as many teachers were graduated this year as have been graduated in any one year in the past. Twenty were granted degrees this year, three times as many as were ever granted before in any one year, and about twice as many as all in the history of the school.

Prof. A. B. Herring is superintendent of the schools of Wynnewood. He is generally recognized as one of the most successful and results getting school executives in this section. He is a member of the committee of the East Central College Association which has to do with making and carrying out the plans for the school.

Prof. B. C. Klepper is principal of the High school at Shawnee. He is a school man of great ability, one of the leaders in the Red Rose and a generally good fellow. He is such a good mixer that most of the citizens of Ada call him "Barney." He is vice president of the East Central College Association.

Prof. F. L. Stewart is principal of the Junior High school at Okmulgee. He is president of the East Central Association and one of the originators of the idea. He will leave in a few days for Chicago where he will continue his studies for five or six weeks in the University of Chicago. He is generally recognized as one of the most effective boosters for East Central.

W. C. Herring is superintendent of the schools of Ravia, and the executive officer of the East Central College Association. He will edit the publication, "The Journal" and look after the details of the Association work. He is building the schools of Ravia to a high degree of perfection.

Farmers' Column

By Byron Norrell

In the fight against the boll weevils the farmers are recognizing the importance of the brush in knocking off infested cotton squares. The cotton stalks can stand a great deal of weeding about without being injured and with the squares on the hot loose dirt the next crop of weevils will be greatly reduced.

I am not advising any particular breed of chickens, but am well pleased with my wife's record this year with White Leghorns. They grow off well and are of frying size about as quickly as others. I like their hardiness and rustling ability to say nothing about their records as egg producers. Some weeks ago we bought a bunch of day-old Barred Rocks and turned them loose with a bunch of Leghorns five days older than the Rocks. Several of the Rocks died but the only Leghorn we have lost was killed by a rat. The others are fully twice as large as the Rocks. I don't know whether this is a general rule or not, but it has been an interesting experiment. At all events the Leghorns will be ready to fry before the Rocks are.

Here is a soup recipe from government bulletin No. 853 which two or three ladies who have tried it recommend very highly:

Concentrated Vegetable Soup

Any desired mixture of vegetables may be packed for home use. A good combination consists of 1 quart concentrated tomato pulp, 1 pint young, tender corn or tiny lima beans, 1 pint okra, 4 tsp. salt and sugar seasoning, 1 small onion chopped, and 1-2 c. of chopped sweet red pepper. Cook the tomatoes, pepper, and onion, put through a sieve to remove seeds, and cook down to about the consistency of ketchup. Measure, all the corn or beans and okra, which have been prepared as for canning, add seasoning, and cook all together for 10 minutes. Pack and process pints for 2 hours continuously at boiling, or for 30 minutes under 10 lbs. steam pressure. Process quarts intermittently.

COLLEGE CAMPUS

The Pesagi, college annual, arrived Monday and is ready for distribution. It is dedicated to E. H. Nelson professor of psychology.

Mrs. Ruth Carter was in Oklahoma City yesterday getting diplomas and degrees signed by state authorities.

Mrs. K. W. Harris, wife of Superintendent K. W. Harris of Purcell and herself a member of the life diploma class, has been ill for the last week but is reported better.

Dr. Linscheid reports that never before in the history of the school has there been so small a percentage of illness among the students as this summer.

President Linscheid states that the general comment of the instructors is that there has been more solid and consistent work and less worry about discipline this summer than ever before.

To My Friends:

A citizen of Ada put into circulation cards, stating that my brother, Judge E. P. Hill of McAlester, who is a candidate for attorney general, while a member of the Legislature had tried to do away with the Ada Normal, and boosting Mr. George F. Short, the present Attorney General's candidacy. I do not know why any citizen of Ada, and especially a candidate should take such steps in my home town where I have lived for 22 years and where I held public office for 14 years.

Below I am publishing my brother's letter in full, which is self-explanatory. I hope my friends in Ada and Pontotoc County, will pay no attention to any falsehoods of this kind, until they have investigated same and found them true. Brother Ed has voted for every appropriation for the Ada Normal, and also, voted for and assisted Hon. W. H. Ebey and Senator Harrison in locating the present Education Building that was built two years ago.

I hope Brother Ed's explanation will be satisfactory and that he will get the same majority he received in this county eight years ago, when he was defeated by Honorable Prince Freeling by a small majority in the state.

Yours for Good Government

SHERWOOD HILL

Mr. S. W. Hill, Ada, Oklahoma,

My Dear Sherwood:

I tried to get you over the phone yesterday, but was unsuccessful. I got Judge McKeel and asked him to put a denial in the Ada paper.

I was astounded to learn that such an uncalled for and unjust falsehood had been circulated against me. As you know, Senator Harrison knows, and as every other man, who has represented Pontotoc County during my service in the legislature, knows, that I have always been the devoted friend of Ada normal school and have never failed to aid it in any way that I could.

I hope you will not hesitate to deny the matters as emphatically as possible, because the record sustains everything that I have said. Especially let the students attending the normal school know in justice to myself, because I do not want them leaving the institution with the wrong impression of my attitude.

Your brother,
E. P. HILL
